

Law School Expert's First Book Named One of the Top Tomes of 2010!

The Law School Admission Game: Play Like an Expert Is a Finalist in The Next Generation Indie Book Awards
Book Will Be Featured at BookExpo America - North America's Biggest Publishing Event
How-To Guide Shares Former Law School Admissions Director Ann Levine's Tips and Tricks for Success

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. - The votes are in! Publishing industry pros have chosen law school expert Ann Levine's first book as one of the top independently-published books of 2010. A panel of expert book editors, writers and publishers recently named Levine's guide to law school admission, The Law School Admission Game: Play Like an Expert, as a finalist for The Next Generation Indie Book Awards (the "Indie Book Awards.")

Levine, who guides prospective students through the law school admission process at LawSchoolExpert.com, says, "It's wonderful to have my first book receive this kind of recognition, especially since my goal was to provide a credible resource to guide people through the ins and outs of applying to law school. Receiving an honor for writing one of the top 'how to' guides is therefore especially rewarding."

The Santa Barbara-based former litigator and law school admission director's book topped the stacks of entries to the annual contest, which honors the most exceptional independently-published books in 60 different categories and is presented by the Independent Book Publishing Professionals Group in cooperation with Marilyn Allen of the Allen O'Shea Literary Agency.

As a result of the honor, The Law School Admission Game: Play Like an Expert will appear with other contest finalists and winners in the 2010 Next Generation Indie Book Awards catalog, which will be distributed to the heavy-hitters of the publishing industry at the upcoming Book Expo America in New York - North America's largest gathering of book trade professionals. The May 25-27 event attracts thousands of attendees, including book buyers, library representatives, media, industry professionals and others.

"Book Expo America is like the Super Bowl of book publishing. I couldn't be happier to have my first book featured at the show alongside the work of America's most successful authors," says Levine. "And since BEA is recognized for the media attention it brings to authors and their books, I'm hoping The Law School Admission Game: Play Like an Expert's presence there will help introduce the guide to many more readers."

The book is also a bestselling law school guide on Amazon.com (where it currently has unanimous five-star reviews) and received SelfPublishing.com's Glengarry Bronze Level Award for sales. In addition to being available on Amazon.com, The Law School Admission Game: Play Like an Expert is available through Ingram Book Company and at LawSchoolExpertBook.com

About Ann Levine & LawSchoolExpert.com

Author of The Law School Admission Game: Play Like an Expert, an Amazon.com best-selling law school guide, Ann Levine is a prominent law school admission consultant who has helped 1,500+ applicants nationwide achieve their admission goals since founding Law School Expert in 2004. Her Law School Expert blog (www.LawSchoolExpert.com/blog) is one of the most respected and popular pre-law advice blogs in the United States and attracts nearly 100,000 readers a year. She is a member of the Association of International Graduate Admissions Consultants (AIGAC) and adheres to all ethical guidelines as provided by that organization.

For more information, or to schedule an interview with Ann Levine, please contact:

Elaine Camuso

Elaine@lawschoolexpert.com

619.606.6445